Grain Storage Hygiene

All-over clean: Clean silos, including the silo wall, with air or water to provide a residue-free surface to apply structural treatments.

When it comes to controlling pests in stored grain — prevention is better than cure. Grain residues in storages or older grain stocks held over from last season provide ideal breeding sites. Meticulous grain hygiene combined with structural treatments, such as diatomaceous earth (DE) for example, Permaguard, can play a key role in reducing the number of stored grain pests.

Pre-harvest Chemical Use

DESICCATION AND CROPTOPPING

If you are considering crop-topping and desiccation of crops pre-harvest there are some important obligations to ensure chemicals are used within prescribed guidelines. To avoid any violations of maximum residue limits remember to always adhere to the label.
