MULTIMIN® – Essential minerals for breeding ewe and ram performance

MULTIMIN is a unique concept of trace mineral supplementation for Australian sheep producers.

This multi-mineral injection is designed to be strategically administered to 'top-up' essential trace minerals, selenium, zinc, and manganese, at critical times such as prior to joining. Preparing ewes for joining can be a difficult process, particularly maiden ewes. All aspects of the nutrition program must be considered in order to achieve the best result possible. Often a small but vital part of the nutrition program is overlooked- the trace mineral component.
